LEGACY FOR A CHURCH.

$20,000 to Be Expended in Decorating the Paulist Fathers' Edifice.

The Church of the Paulist Fathers, at Fifty-ninth street and Ninth avenue, is to be enriched with expensive and elaborate decorations and attractions as the result of a recent legacy of $20,000.

A costly glass dome is to be built over the altar, and the interior of the edifice is to be entirely repainted and renovated.

Five large stained glass windows illustrating the early life of Christ and the Virgin Mary are to be placed in the chancel.

These are being designed by John La Farge, of No. 61 West Tenth street, who had charge of the decoration of the Vanderbilt mansion and other magnificent buildings in this city.

The addition to the building will be in harmony with the present architectural design. It is estimated that it will take two years to complete the work.

SOUTHERN HOTEL DESTROYED.

Narrow Escape from Death at a Dayton (Tenn.) Incendary Fire.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 28.—The Dayton City Hotel, the leading hostelry of Dayton, Tenn., was entirely destroyed by fire this morning at 2 o'clock. For a time the entire town was threatened. The loss will reach $24,000 on the hotel.

Thirty people were in the house when the fire was discovered. The first evidence of the fire was noticed when six columns of dense, black smoke rushed upward through the building, quickly followed by the crackling of flames, which aroused the guests, none of whom were sleeping.

The scene was one of excitement; many of the guests rushed out upon the verandas in their night clothes, and would in their frenzy have leaped to the ground below had not the firemen been there to restrain them.

Several men climbed down the pillars supporting the verandas. Two women fainted and were rescued from the burning building by the firemen. The fire was of incendiary origin. Several days ago, for the third time, guests were poisoned at this hotel. Six of them barely escaped death. A sensational arrest may follow.

HOPE BOOTH NOT INDICTED

Grand Jury Dismisses the Complaint, and the "Orange Blossoms" Case is Appealed.

The Grand Jury yesterday dismissed the case of Hope Booth, the actress, and Manager J. W. Hamilton, against whom an attempt was made to find an indictment on the charge of giving an immoral tableau in a roof garden entertainment.

As soon as Manager John B. Doris, of the Gaiety Theatre, heard of the Grand Jury's action in the Hope Booth case he instructed his lawyer to appeal from the decision or the Justices of Special Sessions in the "Orange Blossoms" case, in which Mme. Pinar-Morin was adjudged guilty of giving an immoral pantomime.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

During the run of "The Lion" at Hoyt's Theatre, J. H. Stoddard will appear in the library and telegraph office scenes from "The Long Stride."

Another enjoyable evening was given last night by the Grand Republic, which has been transformed into a dancing hall. The entertainment went down the bay while the passengers were entertained by a good band of music.

John B. Davis announced that he will re-open the Gaiety Theatre early in September at the new location, the two-headed nightingale, as the attraction.

George Murray has been engaged as stage manager for "When London Sleeps," the English melodrama, which will open the season at the Fourteenth Street Theatre August 31.

"Tom Grogan," the new play by Gus Thomas, has been returned to the author by Charles Frohman, for revision.

Two young women of Western renown have been engaged for Pictorial's Picture Palace next week. They are Lillian Russell, who has been starring in "She Couldn't Marry Three," and Leslie Mitchell, known as "The Living Doll."

William Cramer will play the role of De Niperg in "Monsieur Beaucaire" next season at the Garden Theatre to-morrow night. A large number of volunteers will appear.

MISSING MAN FOUND IN A FINE.

Matthew N. X., July 28.—John Case, who was supposed to have been killed in the State Hospital, was found this afternoon hidden in a ventilator due in the building.

Mob of Striking Tailors Being Dispersed by the Police.

A crowd of the strikers gathered in front of the shop of L. Witkowski, in Suffolk street, yesterday, uttering loud threats. His force of union men had struck and he was attempting to go on with others. A squad of police by the display of their clubs managed to frighten the mob, and it slowly retreated.

DANGER IN TRAVEL ON JEROME AVENUE.

Full of Hills and Holes, and a Menace Even to Those Who Walk.

Acting Mayor Jeroloman Describes a Ride He Took Through the Street.

CITY AUTHORITIES ARE INDIFFERENT.

Tardiness of the Contractors Overlooked by Those Whose Duty It Should Be to See That Necessary Repairs Are Made.

Although residents along Jerome avenue, and bicyclists who try occasionally to make their way through that thoroughfare, find every one, in fact, unfortunately enough, compelled to ride through it, complain constantly of its wretched state, the city authorities look on supremely and make excuses or denials.

As the Journal has pointed out, the avenue is in a deplorable condition from One Hundred and Sixty-first street to One Hundred and Eighty-seventh street. Along this section are many residences and public houses which it is next to impossible to reach with comfort or safety.

The importance of this section of the avenue is due to the fact that it is the most direct route from Manhattan Island to White Plains, and the principal points in Westchester county. It is the natural thoroughfare for drivers and wheelmen, and this fact long ago induced its rapid building up by citizens who supposed it would quickly be put in order.

One of the prominent residents said yesterday: "The avenue gets worse and worse all the time. It is in hills and holes, and in some places is dangerous for pedestrians, even if I ride a bicycle, but it is utterly impossible for a wheelman of ordinary skill to ride through Jerome avenue. An expert rider runs great risks in so doing."

Acting Mayor Jeroloman was asked yesterday when the condition of the avenue would be improved. He said: "I have not heard any complaint recently. A year ago I rode through the street in going to Mount Vernon to attend the game of baseball between the Yonkers and Mount Vernon Aldermen. I thought then the street was in a mighty bad fix. We would go down in deep holes and then run on slanting ground, almost throwing the wagon over. The ride was taken under the greatest discomfort. I haven't been along there since, but I'll look into it."

Commissioner Haffen said yesterday: "It is possible to find disorder in spots in Jerome avenue, but that is due to the gas and water mains which are being put in. It is like to be able to control a street so that when gas and water mains are put in the surface should not be disturbed at all. So far, however, a way of accomplishing that has not been discovered. The street isn't bad, and there is no just ground for complaint."

General Collis, Commissioner of Public Works, said he knew nothing about the work on water mains in the avenue. In the office of the superintendent of that department it was said that their work on the mains was completed, and that the bad condition of the street was due to the tardiness of the contractors Thielenman and Smith, who are grading Jerome avenue.

When asked the nature of their trouble, the superintendent said: "The contractors will not trouble themselves to hurry up the work. They believe in taking it easy. That's what's the matter. They tear up the street and wait till the spirit moves them before they repair it."

This opinion is heartily endorsed by the complaining residents along Jerome avenue. They say the contractors are too slow.

Thielenman and Smith have a contract to fill the grade from the Central Bridge to One Hundred and Seventy-fourth street. The contract calls for the completion of the work in 200 days. It was begun nearly a year ago, and hasn't been finished yet.

DOCTOR JUMPS FROM A WINDOW.

Philadelphia, July 28.—Dr. John Dale Dillon, aged forty years, during a fit of mental derangement, jumped from a third story window of his home at Fifth and Fawcett streets, and landed on the sidewalk below.

He died from his injuries fifteen minutes after his admission to a hospital. He had been acting strangely for several days.

Boston, July 28.—The will of the late ex-Governor William E. Russell was a surprise to his widow and appoints a executor. The will was made December 18, 1895.

MORE EVICTIONS ORDERED.

Health Board Places Twenty Additional Tenements Under the Ban, and Will Have Them Condemned.

The Board of Health is relentlessly pushing its warfare against disease-breeding tenements. Yesterday the eviction of the occupants of twenty more miserable habitations were ordered. These tenements, like the fifty-seven others which have already been vacated, are to be condemned.

As the Board's work is progressing even more startling conditions are revealed than it has previously encountered.

"The greatest wonder to us," said President Wilson yesterday, "is that human life has been at all possible in some of the places we have entered."

Roger Foster, member of the Tenement House Committee, who drew up the law under which the Board is acting, has been retained to help the Board fight its condemnation proceedings through the courts.

The highest death rate which has yet been reported to the Board from any of the tenements came from a house in the rear of No. 326 East Eleventh street. In this tenement there had been an average death rate of 89.4 per thousand for the past five years.

The house is owned by the William Hausch estate, of which Katherine Kuber, No. 326 East Eleventh street, and William Lynch, No. 360 Greenwich street, are trustees. It is a dilapidated four-story brick building, at present occupied by eight families. The walls and ceilings no longer present the slightest suggestion of plastering. The interior is coated with dirt. The rain pours through the leaky roof in streams, and does not stop at the upper floors. Fevers and diphtheria have for years found this a choice plague spot.

The other tenements included in the list of twenty which are to be condemned are located as follows: Nos. 59, 61 and 63 James street; No. 201 West street; No. 330 East Third street; No. 78 Norfolk street; Nos. 118 and 120 Cannon street; Nos. 401 and 403 East Houston street; Nos. 105, 107, 109 and 111 Lewis street; Nos. 88 and 90 Catharine street; Nos. 78 and 80 Essex street and No. 55 James street.

SAVED THEIR TWO FRIENDS.

Willie Collier and Four Companions Were Upset in the Sound.

St. James, L. I., July 28.—Willie Collier, the actor, with Will Warren, John Hines, Thomas Adams and Richard Mullen, went sailing on the Sound yesterday in Mullen's catboat. They were anchored several miles off shore, when the wind freshened and the water became very rough.

Mullen was making for shelter when a puff of wind upset the boat. The five men were thrown into the water. Hines and Adams are unable to swim, but the other three who are expert swimmers, managed to keep them afloat.

The boat had drifted away on the strong tide and there was nothing to do but make for the shore. As the catboat was empty, the swimmers in keeping their companions afloat. They finally reached the shore so exhausted that they had to lie down on the sand for several hours. Finally they were seen by a farmer who gave them clothing and sent them home.

MARRIAGE OF DEAF MUTES.

Ceremony in Which a Typewritten Copy of the Service Was Used.

Springfield, O., July 28.—A most unique wedding which took place at Xenia, and in which John Ernst Bersling, of this city, was the groom, is a theme of conversation here. The bride was Lida Parlett, of Xenia.

Both are deaf mutes. Rev. G. G. Ramsey, of the United Presbyterian Church, officiated. A typewritten copy of the ceremony was held up before them and they followed with the eye. While the minister was reading the service, the bride and groom were looking at a typewritten copy of the service which was held up before them.

DELEGATES GROW EXCITED.

The speakers were very much excited, and those in favor of the admission of the Anarchists hotly contended that if they were not admitted the congress would not be internationally representative.

The opponents of the proposition declared with equal spirit that the admission of the Anarchists would have the effect of leading the general public to believe that the Socialists favored the Anarchist propaganda, which, the speakers contended, was not the case.

Eventually another vote was taken, and it was decided—208 to 104—to refuse to recognize them. The Anarchists would be delegates outside the hall, waiting for a decision, and when it was announced to them they became highly indignant. It was finally decided to force an entrance into the hall, and the decision was no sooner arrived at than it was carried out. A rush was made for the doorkeepers, who were speedily upset, and the crowd of Anarchists made their way to the gallery. Then arose a perfect babel.

ANARCHISTS IN THE HALL.

The delegates shouted in their native tongues, Russian, Polish, French, German, Italian, Spanish and English, that the intruders should be put out. Finally, when the voice of a speaker could be heard above the din, Tom Mann and James Kier Hardie addressed the Chair in advocacy of the admission of one of the Anarchists. Other speakers opposed the proposition, and the excitement waxed, until it appeared that there was a decidedly favorable chance of yesterday's disgraceful scene being repeated.

Herr Singer finally succeeded in obtaining a little order, and it was then agreed that properly accredited Anarchists should be admitted, but should be allowed to take no part in the debates. Later, another vote was taken, and it was decided to uphold the Zurich resolution, which, in effect, provides that Anarchists shall not be admitted. There the question remains at present.

NAPOLÉON BONA-PARTE.

One of the most powerful men in all history, a man continually wrapped in schemes and campaigns, in plots and counter-plots, striving intently and ambitiously for success and power—a man whose utter disregard for human life made his battles the bloodiest the world has ever seen—this man found bitterness in his triumphs because he had no heir to whom to bequeath his greatness.

Josephine was a divorced largely for this reason. Many women are afflicted with disorders of the organs directly feminine so that bearing children would be dangerous to them, and unfair to the children. Every child deserves the heritage of health. The children cannot receive this from a sickly mother. There is no reason why they should have such a thing as "female weakness." It is as unnecessary as it is distressing. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures all forms of distinctly feminine sickness. It purifies, strengthens and invigorates. It is prepared for just this one purpose and no other. It's the only medicine now before the public for women's peculiar ailments, adapted to her delicate organization by a regularly graduated physician, an experienced and skilled specialist in these maladies. It cannot do harm in any condition of the system. Its sales exceed the combined sales of all other medicines for women.

EVERY WOMAN OUGHT TO SEND AT ONCE.

Every woman ought to send at once a cent stamp to pay for mailing a free copy of Dr. Pierce's "Medical Adviser," a world's dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y.

ter traced the words with a pencil and pronounced them for the benefit of the company, if not for the patients themselves, that order was followed until the direct questions of the ceremony were reached, and the father of the groom translated the questions into the sign language as they were spoken by the preacher. A nod, which was clear enough in its meaning, and given by each of the parties, sealed the contract, and they were declared man and wife.

FOUND A PIGEON AT SEA.

Carrier Boarded a French Bark 400 Miles from Land.

Washington, July 28.—The Hydrographic Office has received the following report from Captain Bernal, of the French bark Alice and Isabel, bound from Philadelphia to Sables d'Olonne, France:

"June 11, 1896, about 7 p. m., latitude 39 degrees north, longitude 71 degrees west (about 600 miles from New York on the steamer track). A carrier pigeon came aboard, probably from the east coast of the United States. It had a copper band on each foot, the right one marked G. R. 12, 1894. This pigeon may be reclaimed by its owner. In the meantime, it has been entrusted to the Messager de l'Océan, Houlog, of Sables d'Olonne, France."

BOUGHT THE BERMUDA.

Fillbuster Schooner Has Made Her Last Roving Expedition.

Philadelphia, July 28.—The fillbustering steamship Bermuda was sold to-day to J. Millard, a marine architect, whose office is in New York. He is a British subject, and will at once take steps to have the ship's English custom house registry restored.

Just what the ship's new owner proposes to do with her could not be learned. It was said to-day that the steamer will sail next week for Jamaica, where the transfer to the new registered owner will be made and the legal formalities complied with on British soil.

It was also said that hereafter the vessel will not be engaged in fillbustering expeditions, notwithstanding various rumors to that effect.

If space would allow we could go on with such extracts as above—indeed, these, however, will suffice to confirm the claims made in the leading lines of this article.

A STANDING INVITATION.

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely, any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.
